HERE RESTS A SUICIDE.

Brilliant and Promising.

He took his own life many years before his appointed time to die, might be a truthful epitaph on the tombstone of thousands who will sink drunkards' graves this year. The great tidal wave of intemperance flows on and many there are near and dear to our hearts who sink beneath its cruel onward rush, never to rise again—unless it be to rise in a resurrection of damnation. There is scarcely an hamlet to be found in our young country but has its broken family circle and sad hearts, on account of the curse of strong drink. Tears, signing of pledges, promises, resolutions, environment, joining the church, and various other methods have failed to reclaim the drunkard, and the sad cry that today comes from thousands of eager, anxious, prayerful hearts, is: "If there no way by which to save my husband, my son, my father, from filling a drunkard's grave? It is a well established fact that children begotten of drunkards are predisposed to drunkenness, and hence the need of a remedy that will eliminate from the system all desire for intoxicants. Drunkenness may be called a terrible habit, but more properly its right name is a terrible disease, and when it is once fastened upon a man it will be the wind's will, and he is doomed to die unless his disease be cured. Golden Specific, an infallible cure for this disease, was formulated some years ago, by the celebrated physician, Dr. Haines, on the diagnosis of drunkenness as a disease, and its first failure to permanently cure is yet to be recorded. Cases pronounced mental wrecks, incurable, by physicians, have been marvelously cured, and many there are today who are clothed and in their right mind through Golden Specific, when tripping numbers by the thousands in nearly every land on the globe. It is a preventive as well as a cure, acting directly upon the nervous system, restoring it to its normal condition. It is the poor man's God-send (price, $3), for what called that will cure at home the worst cases at a trifling cost, with no inconvenience to the patient. Harmless, effective, inexpensive. Can be given without the knowledge of the patient, if desired. Write Golden Specific Co., Cincinnati, O., for information.

DETENTHALER'S MARKET.

A Model Fish, Game and Oyster Market.

A very unusual display of fresh fish was made by Detenthaler yesterday at his well appointed Monroe street place of business.

Nearly every species of Michigan game, fish together with fresh mackerel, eels, lobsters and frogs were displayed. The array was especially notable for the large number of fine black bass.

Detenthaler has long enjoyed the reputation of possessing facilities for the collection and preservation of game, fish, oysters and other articles in his line, possessed by no other dealer this side of the great markets of the seacoast.

He does an immense wholesale and retail trade, and always has seasonable goods of the best quality. The opening of the oyster season is an important event in the annual trade of his lines. To meet this Detenthaler has made special preparation, and will offer his patrons this year a more perfect service than ever before. The game season is now fully begun, and every delicacy of the feathered tribes is to be found in company with their finny relatives upon Detenthaler's counters.

CAPITALISTS BELIEVE IN IT.

The Resources and Location of Kettle Falls Give Stability to Its Securities.

In the northwest as in all new regions interest is high and the bonds of most of the cities, even though considered perfectly good, bear 7 and 8 per cent interest and they ordinarily pay a commission of about 10 per cent for selling them. Kettle Falls, Wash., is a notable exception. Although a new city only twenty-one months old its success in marketing its bonds has been phenomenal.

The council lately issued bonds to the amount of $20,000 for the purpose of building water works. Every dollar's worth of these bonds has been sold though the bonds bear what is for that country the extremely low rate of 6 per cent interest, and the commission paid for selling them was only 4 per cent.

Concerning the resources of the country we can not do better than copy a letter of a conservative capitalist and railroad builder of the northwest well-known throughout the country.
